Figures Show Canyon Growing

Canyon is growing at a faster rate, buildingwise, than most other cities in the area, a supplement to the Texas Business Review shows.

In dollars per capita spent for new building in June and for the first six months of 1955, Canyon is outgrowing Dumas, reported to be the "Growingest City in the Panhandle."

Building permits issued in June show that an average of $45.37 per person was to be spent in Canyon. Dalhart's rate was 51 cents, Dumas $14.04, Floydada 62 cents and Hereford, $31.30.

Total building permits for June in Canyon were $198,000, while Dalhart's was $3,000, Dumas $86,000, Floydada $2,000 and Hereford $163,000.

For the first six months, Canyon's per capita value was $179.19, while total permits issued were for $782,000. Dalhart's totals were $23.66 per capita and $140,000; Dumas $141.34; and Hereford $166.12 and $865,000.

Permits were issued for 25 new homes worth $233,000 in Canyon during the first half of 1955. Dalhart had 13 new homes worth $125,000, Dumas 67 worth $876,000 and Hereford 71 worth $749,000.

Mufflers, Drinkers City's Targets

The Canyon City Commission Monday night called for a crack-down on drivers of cars with noisy mufflers and those who are drunk while in control of a motor vehicle.

The members voted to instruct Chief of Police George Roden to increase enforcement of the city ordinances covering those violations.

In other action, City Secretary Dudley Bayne reported the swimming pool showed a profit of approximately $500 for the first 15 days operation. The profit includes money received for season tickets as well as single admissions.

The commission discussed traffic conditions on streets leading to Conner Park, and ordered Bayne to install 12 mile per hour speed limit signs in the park. The commission discussed the possibility of making 19th a through street to the park from either Fourth or Eighth, but took no action.

They voted to ask the school board for designation of fire lanes at both the high school and the new school. The lanes are needed so fire trucks can approach the schools in case of fire.

In a discussion of the number of telephone calls received by the sheriff's office when the fire siren sounds, a suggestion was made that the possibility of operating a repeating recorder on a private telephone line be explored.

The commissioners asked Bayne to find out the cost of such apparatus. It operates in this manner: When a fire is reported, the deputy turns the recorder on, and feeds in the information on the location of the fire.

Volunteer firemen dial the unlisted number, and the recorder's mechanical voice tells them the location of the fire. The number would be secret, and for use of firemen only.

A request by R. A. Smith that a street which runs from the middle of the 2500 block on Fourth south to Seventh be named was tabled by the commission. The street was originally an alley, but property owners along it deeded extra land to the city for a street.

The commission decided to send Glenn Sparkman, water superintendent, to a waterworks conference in San Antonio in October.

Bayne presented a budget report for the first quarter of the fiscal year, and said in most departments the expenditures are running under the estimate.

Other business transacted at the meeting was routine.

Judge Contacts Appraisal Firms

County Judge Roy Joe Stevens said yesterday he had contacted about 15 appraisal firms in connection with the coming appraisal of right of way for the Canyon-Amarillo expressway.

He said none of those firms have made appointments to appear before the county commission, but expects to have some of them soon.

The commissioners court voted last week to investigate the possibility of hiring a firm outside of the vicinity to make the appraisals for the right of way.

Last Friday, the special appraisal committee, composed of E. M. Myers, A. B. Holt, T. S. Stevenson and Roy Byrd Jr., reported their findings on right of way from Canyon to Happy.

The court took their report under consideration, but has not announced whether it has been accepted or rejected.

The special committee was appointed by the court to appraise right of way for the proposed four-lane highway to Happy. They were working without pay, according to Judge Stevens.

At their regular meeting Monday, the commissioners were asked to assist in pavement of a new 40-acre housing development located south of the intersection of Western and the Canyon Highway, in the vicinity of Arden Road. The area is west of Western.

Gordon Fielden, Amarillo real estate dealer, said the development would be called Western Manor and would contain 46 lots.

He asked the court to assist in the cost of paving the project. The commissioners said they would be willing to share in the cost of paving a county road leading to the proposed development and would notify Fielden whether they could participate in paving streets inside the development.

The court authorized Bill Money, tax assessor-collector, to hire one new deputy and to replace one who recently resigned. Hired as a replacement is J. L. Clower.

Sheriff Sends Beer to Amarillo

One of the largest shipments of liquor from Canyon in several years was made last Saturday as Sheriff L. S. Johnston sent confiscated beverages to the Liquor Control Board in Amarillo.

Included in the shipment was 145 cases of beer and 23 cases of wine, whiskey and gin. All of it had been taken from bootleggers transporting it through Randall County.

The liquor had been stored in a small room on the north side of the jail, which will be renovated to provide a cell for female prisoners or juveniles. Last week the county commissioners ordered the remodeling.

Sheriff Johnston said the Liquor Control Board will receive bids on the confiscated liquor from wholesalers, and the proceeds from the sale will go to the Old Age Pension fund of the state.

The cases and bottles were loaded onto a county truck by prisoners, some of whom are the ones serving sentences for transporting the same liquor they loaded out. Deputy Sheriff Bill Wilson drove the truck to Amarillo.

A large part of the wine and some of the beer had been packed three bottles to a sack. The prisoners used borrowed wheelbarrows to move the sacks from the store-room to the truck.

H. T. Carr Sr. Dies During Visit With Daughter Here

Hiram Thomas Carr Sr., 63, of Brownfield, died Monday morning while here on a visit with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Standley.

Mr. Carr and his wife arrived in Canyon Saturday for a visit. Mr. Carr became ill Sunday morning and was taken to Neblett Hospital, where he died at 4:35 a. m. Monday.

Services were to have been conducted at 10 a. m. today in the Griggs-Warren Chapel by the Rev. T. L. Pond and Dr. Jones Weathers. Burial will be in the Slaton cemetery.

Mr. Carr was born May 29, 1892, in Springfield, Mo. He was a disabled veteran of World War I.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Brownfield, the Masonic Lodge and the American Legion.

In addition to his wife and daughter, survivors include a son, H. T. Carr Jr., serving in the Navy; another daughter, Helen Carr, Brownfield; a brother, W. F. Carr, Barstow, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Anna Talbert Reeves, Springfield, Mo.; and one granddaughter.

Schools Open Soon, Story in Next News

Canyon Public Schools will open for the 1955-56 school term Aug. 29, with a general faculty meeting. Registration for high school students will also begin that day.

Next week's Canyon News will be devoted to the back-to-school movement, with complete registration schedules, information for parents, the school calendar and stories about schools and teachers.

Mrs. R. C. Helmich and daughters, Paula and Phyllis, returned to their home in Yukon, Okla., Wednesday after spending 11 days with her mother, Mrs. J. C. Dowd, and other relatives in Happy and Amarillo. The Helmichs will leave for a two weeks vacation Aug. 8. They will visit the Lill Helmich family in Idaho. On their way they plan to visit friends in Lake City. Mrs. R. P. Helmich and Ric will return with them for a short visit.

Heart Association Formed in County

Dr. R. P. Jarrett was elected president of the Randall County Heart Association at an organizational meeting Monday night in the American Legion Hall.

Mrs. Vivian T. MacFawn, program consultant for the Texas Heart Association, talked to the organizing group on the need for public education on heart diseases. She said many heart diseases can be cured if treatment is started soon enough.

She advised that young persons, especially those who are prospective athletes, should have regular examinations.

Others elected to two-year offices include Mrs. Ethel Mullins, first vice president, Dr. Ruth Lowes, second vice president, Levi Cole, treasurer, Mrs. T. G. Dewey, secretary.

Gene McGlasson Jr. was elected chairman of the board of directors. The executive committee is made up of Dr. Ples Harper, Raymond Batenhorst, of Umbarger, and Dr. T. V. Crounse. A. W. Lair is campaign chairman.

Sunday Shower Light and Heavy

Thunderclouds divided Canyon in half from east to west Sunday afternoon to continue the pattern of showers set over the county.

In the east end of the city, a deluge brought 1.31 inches of moisture in a rain gauge at the college. In the west end, another gauge showed .10 of an inch.

The rains began about 4 p. m., and after a few minutes of steady drizzle, started to pour down hard. One citizen, who was driving toward Canyon, said it looked as if "the bottom fell out."

Accompanying the rain was a small amount of light hail which caused no reported damage. High winds during part of the storm twisted small limbs from trees and belted leaves to the ground.

Brilliant lightning and thunder were seen and heard during the storm. Lightning struck a tree in Mrs. Ed Harrell's yard. Lightning struck the same tree about eight years ago, Mrs. Harrell said.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mrs. W. H. Lewis were her niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Cook, and her great-nephew, Paul Traw, all of Artesia, Calif.

Sunflowers in Dreamland

The lack of proper groundskeeping in county-owned Dreamland Cemetery has allowed plots to grow up in weeds, while grass and shrubbery wilt from lack of water. (See additional picture, last page of section one).

Court Reviews New Assessments

The Randall County Commissioners Court Tuesday began reviewing the new assessments on property which have been prepared by Bill Money, tax assessor-collector.

The assessments total just under $100 million on all classes of property in the county. The commissioners began by checking each rendition card in the county files.

No notices of raise in assessments have been mailed, County Judge Roy Joe Stevens said Tuesday afternoon.

The commissioners will set the rate of taxation following approval of the new assessment totals, the judge said.

Woods Named as Bank Director

E. W. Woods, who lives south-west of the city limits, was recently elected to the board of directors of the First National Bank in Canyon.

Chloe Ann Black, an employee for the past five years, was made assistant cashier of the bank by the directors.

Woods, who is associated with the Ralph Elevator at Ralph Switch, replaces Clyde W. Warwick, who recently sold his stock in the bank and retired from the board and as a bank officer.

title to the cemetery and operate it as a private business subject to laws of the state. Their proposal states that any owner of lots or spaces in the present cemetery would not be affected in the transfer of title.

The proposal was received by the commissioners court last week. County Judge Roy Joe Stevens was instructed to contact the Randall County Cemetery Association and advise them of the proposal.

The commissioners wished to offer the association first rights to any change in the method of operation.

Judge Stevens said the operation of the cemetery costs the county about $3,000 a year. The county pays the association $250 a month, which is used to pay a caretaker. Other funds are made up by subscriptions.

Spaces in the cemetery are presently being sold for $15 for inside spaces and $25 for corner spaces, Judge Stevens said. He said the prices charged for the lots do not cover the opening and closing of graves.

At the present time, Griggs-Warren Funeral Home acts as collection agent for the county, but B. B. Warren, of the funeral home, has requested the court he be relieved of that responsibility. The county does not pay the funeral home for the service.

Judge Stevens said the cemetery, being operated by county funds, is not in good shape, and probably will never be so long as the county retains responsibility for the operation of it.

"It's not fair to taxpayers in other parts of the county to be assessed for a cemetery which is used only by persons who live in Canyon and the vicinity," Judge Stevens said.

He said there have been two proposals made to change the method of operation. "I'd like to see either of them adopted, or any third one which might be proposed," Judge Stevens said.

The proposals are: Transfer of title to a private corporation; or operation of the cemetery on a contract basis by the Randall County Cemetery Association with the county retaining title but not responsibility for operation.

The alternative method was suggested by the commissioner's court if the association wishes to take that action.

The court has received no word from the association, although Mrs. C. O. Elkins notified Judge Stevens a meeting would be called this week.

Hawks and Herbert were in Canyon last week to explain their proposal.

They said they would clean up the part of the cemetery now in use and would attempt to establish a "special fund" to provide permanent care for it.

Included in the clean up would be removal of rubbish, planting grass and sufficient care to make the cemetery a garden spot.

They propose to dedicate the undeveloped four acres on the west side of the cemetery as a "memorial garden" with a perpetual care fund to provide for its maintenance.

They said burial spaces in both the old and the new parts would be sold for $100 each. In the old section, 80 per cent of the purchase price would go into the "special care" fund. Space and lot (Continued, Back Page, Section 1)

Former Canyon Man Drowns in Utah Lake

Funeral rites were held Monday in Los Angeles, Calif., for Joe Wade Johnson, 40, former Canyon resident and brother of Mrs. Andy Walsh.

Mr. Johnson was drowned last week when a boat capsized on a lake near Cedar City, Utah. He and his wife, Irene, were vacationing near Cedar City.

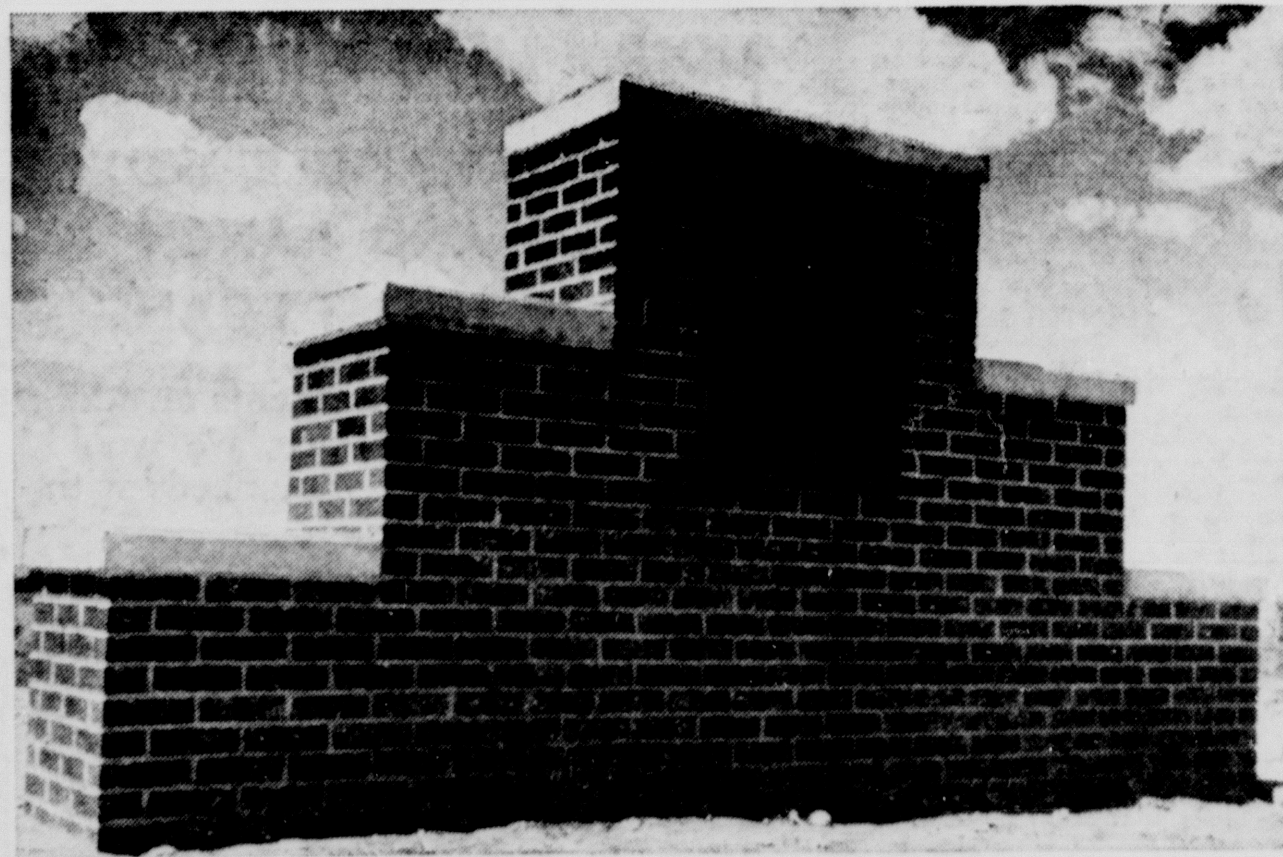

He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Johnson of Canyon. Mr. Johnson was graduate of Canyon High School.

Mrs. Walsh attended her brother's funeral. She had seen him on a long visit recently.

Other survivors include another sister, Mrs. Helen Long, Brigham City, Utah, and two brothers, Warren and Wendell Johnson, both of Los Angeles.

Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Sgt. Albert K. Pettit, food specialist 2 C, spent a three day furlough with his wife and children last week. He left Saturday to return to the Island of Eleutha in the Bahama Islands.

Styles in memorials to men who have been killed in wars have undergone considerable change in recent years. The memorial dedicated to the dead of World War II, recently completed, is a modern, functional marker, while the memorial to the dead of World War I, standing on the courthouse lawn, is a bronze figure in the style of older sculptors.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce is trying its best to promote Canyon and West Texas State College. Last Monday evening the C of C threw a big "Coke" party for all the visiting band students now attending the big band camp on the campus of West Texas State. High school students from all over the Panhandle are in attendance and the Chamber of Commerce is trying to make the kids feel that Canyon is a good, friendly town, and the college is an ideal place for them to continue their education.

We are also sure that the party would have been a much bigger success if more of the local citizens would have taken time out to go down and help with the party and meet the visiting students that have been attending the band camp.

In his report to the nation made on his return from Geneva, President Eisenhower warned against too much optimism. But, it seems clear, he does believe that the atmosphere between the great powers is better than it was. In his view, we will need "prayerful patience" and hard work if we are to keep alive the spark ignited at Geneva.

The chiefs of state reached agreement on no issue—and on the main issue, German unity, the deadlock between East and West was absolute. But the Soviet leaders were willing to talk about German unification, even though their terms were unacceptable to us, and to express a desire to keep on talking and bargaining.

A high note is found in the manner President Eisenhower seized the initiative at Geneva. His international prestige and influence was greatly enhanced.

Only time can tell how much or how little was attained at Geneva. Meanwhile, most seem to feel that our current policy should be one that was laid down long ago by Theodore Roosevelt, in a phrase that has become a classic: "Speak softly and carry a big stick."

Many of the citizens of Canyon have become greatly concerned over the problem of "Peeping Toms." About the best remedy and precaution that an individual could take would be to lower the window shades all the way to the bottom thereby taking away the temptation for a passerby to investigate the lighted house with its shades open.

In many cases the "peeping toms" don't even have to go near the house because they can get a clear view from the street or sidewalk. A lighted house at night with a clear view of the activities carried on by the occupants only invites snoopers and "peeping toms."

The local peace officers are doing all they can to protect the residents of Canyon and keep the peepers from roving about the town but they can't watch every house in town all of the time. With a little cooperation on the part of each resident this evil nuisance could be practically eliminated.

The school board of the Canyon Independent School District is fortunate in the fact that they do not have the problem of desegregation to contend with at least at this time. They have been able to devote their time to other matters which arise in the process of trying to provide adequate facilities to educate the youth of a growing town and district.

The board of the local district has operated an efficient school system over the past years and a major building program has been completed and paid for with a $550,000 bond issue. At the time the bond issue was voted, the patrons of the district were well informed on the financial conditions existing in the district and it was thought at the time that a raise in the school tax might be needed to meet the obligations of the district. However, the expected raise has never been added, but it may be forthcoming in the near future as additional rooms will have to be added to take care of the educational needs of the expanding population of Canyon and vicinity.

The nighttime programs of the music camp at the college have been quite a boon to entertainment in the city—although they haven't been too well attended.

The "progress report" last Friday night was rained out of the stadium and moved to the auditorium, but that didn't hurt the quality of the music at all. The youngsters in the two bands and the choir had been working on the concert only four days, but it sounded as good as if they had been at it for weeks.

The "final exam" scheduled Friday night should be even better. The program is set for 7:30 p. m. in the stadium.

Incidentally, although the music camp is only three years old, it is already gaining national recognition. Twirling instructor Bob Roberts of Los Angeles, who could only stay one week because of a prior commitment at Gunnison, Colo., said he had heard of the camp and "was very pleased to be invited as an instructor."

Roberts said he would have liked to rest during the week, but "this week here has done me worlds of good."

While talking with a group of high school band directors from the area, Roberts said, "I'd sure like to come again next year. This is a good camp."

Roberts was on a tour in the middle west before coming to Canyon and will be an instructor at the Gunnison camp.

Westbury, a city on Long Island in New York, recently brought their curfew laws up to date in an extremely democratic way.

It seems the city has had a problem on its hands because of the rapid growth of the cat population. Now they have a curfew on cats—it is against the law for the animals to prowl late at night.

Before the new law was enacted, the cats were getting by scot-free, while the dogs of the city were being discriminated against. The dogs had to be in at night.

Probably, Westbury will have as hard a time trying to keep their animals in nights as lots of parents have keeping their children at home.

Bison Bison Becomes Big Bag of Bones

"Bison-bison" is nothing more than a plain Buffalo, but the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum has a mounted skeleton that shows why he is such an ugly critter.

Displayed in the paleontological section of the museum, the composite skeleton recently completed doesn't represent any single animal. Bison bison is the modern animal hunted across the Great Plains by Indians and later the Buffalo hunters.

He roamed the mid-North American continent since the late Pleistocene, or Ice Age, and his cousin, of an earlier age, is called "Bison super bison."

Just for comparison's sake, a museum visitor might look over "Old Charlie," the stuffed Buffalo upstairs, and then view his uncovered counterpart in the basement. This gives an idea why the grotesque animal is grotesque.

The skeleton was assembled from bones secured from a number of places, but the most of the bones were excavated from a dig in the Methodist Camp in South Ceta Canyon. Jack T. Hughes, curator of anthropology, dug out the nearly fossilized remains in 1953.

Two West Texas State College students, Boyd Williams, Canadian, and Curtis Tunnell, Turkey, assembled the skeleton from the supply of Buffalo bones stocked by the museum. A wide assortment of the various bones was necessary to obtain each particular bone needed.

HIS HERITAGE

One rainy afternoon Aunt Sue was explaining the meaning of various words to her young nephew.

"Now, an heirloom my dear, means something that has been handed down from father to son," she said.

"Well," replied the boy, thoughtfully, "that's a queer name for my pants."

(Taken from the files of The Canyon News of Aug. 7, 1930)

Brick paving of a 12 block area was started by C. N. Harrison. The first block to be paved was 15th between 5th and 6th Avenues. He promised the rest of the paving in record time.

The city received notice of a 15 per cent Good Fire Record Credit of 1930 because the fire loss in 1929 was only $2,210 as compared to a loss of more than $4,000 in 1929.

Nevertheless, early that week, fire destroyed an unoccupied house belonging to Jim Green, which was located north of the Santa Fe station. Loss was estimated at $1,500. Incidentally, seven persons were charged by Chief of Police Frank Hicks for following the fire trucks and running over hoses. Heavy congestion hampered the work of the firemen.

The Buffalo Band, directed by C. E. Strain, announced an evening concert on the steps of the Administration Building at the college.

The above is a sonnet written by Warren Parker of 307 21st St. in Canyon. He has been writing poetry since he was a lad in Warren, Ohio. Many of his poems have been published, and some have won prizes in magazine contests. Mr. Parker makes it clear that poetry is his avocation; that he writes for the pleasure it affords him. He prefers the sonnet, that pattern of poetry that uses the iambic pentameter of 14 lines, but he has written in several other poetic patterns.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker came to Canyon in 1947 and established the Pyramid Sales Co. Later they started a retail outlet, Dan's Store. They have an eight-year old daughter, Rose Ellen.

Mr. Parker's hobby was interrupted by a serious illness last year. He spent six months in the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo, but he is able to be at work part of the time. Mr. Parker is compiling two separate books of poetry as gifts to his wife and daughter.

"The first place we visited was the Tower of London. We walked with our guide inside the walls around the tower. The arch was old and grey. We walked on gravel and stones most of the way. The first tower we visited was the Bloody Tower where we saw the Crown Jewels. The Crown Jewels are kept in a very, very large glass and iron case. The lights on the jewels made them shine and twinkle. We saw all the great crowns and many other things with them. If anybody attempts to steal the Crown Jewels, alarms and bells ring all over London. We walked outside where we saw the White Hall and the place where people were beheaded. Six ravens are kept at the Tower because it is said that if the last raven goes away, the tower will fall. Our guide said the ravens lived to be 40 years old. When one raven dies, ravens are sent from Ireland, England, Scotland and Sweden."

Mrs. Warwick wrote of London: "We drove through the beautiful country to Stratford-On-Avon where we saw Shakespeare's birthplace, a beautiful half-timbered house where he was born in 1564. Ann Hathaway's cottage has fireplaces as long as the rooms and as tall as a person. The people stood on the hearth in the fireplace as long as the rooms and as tall as a person. The people stood on the hearth in the fireplace for warmth. The bake ovens were by the sides of the fireplaces. We have seen a few thatched roofs. That is nearly a lost art as it is so expensive. The straw is all carefully washed by hand before it is used for thatching. The thatched roofs look to be about a foot thick. They last 100 years. The greatest trouble is that birds nest in them. Ann Hathaway's cottage is a beautiful example of thatched roof. It has a lovely garden setting of flowers, trees and clipped hedges.

In driving across the country we see that nearly every home has beautiful flower gardens in the front yards. The flowers are many colors, massed and such vivid colors. It is said that there are more flowers in England than anywhere else in the world. If they find a spot six inches wide, they plant flowers. We see many geraniums. In the parks there are thousands of them of every color. The ones in front of Buckingham DREAM TRAINS—Lehrter Bahnhof railroad station yards in West Berlin, Germany, abandoned since bombed out of operation in World War II, once more echoes to the thunder of through express trains and the chuff-chuff of heavy freights bound for the Alps and Italy, as neighborhood children take over the right-of-way.

Palace are all a vivid red, the same shade, in huge beds of many shapes, every bloom perfect. We see gardeners picking the dead blooms off.

We are not far from Buckingham Palace. We pass it everywhere we go. The guards are interesting to us as they march back and forth like wooden soldiers. The cement blocks in the path where they march have to be replaced every two years. The guards never move a muscle of the face or move their eyes. They stand for only two hours every other day. Before the last war, the guards had to be 6 ft. 6 in. tall but the last two wars have lowered the height of the English people, and the height is no longer a requirement.

So many funny things happen to us. We spotted a beauty shop so we went in and found it was for pets. Here dogs are shampooed, curled and clipped. It was quite an elaborate shop.

Dr. and Mrs. Houston Bright are building a new home at 2604 9th Ave. in Canyon. It will be finished in pink brick with a composition roof. The floor plan includes three bedrooms, two baths, a kitchen, dining room, living room and attached garage. "Cheetah," the Bright's Simanese cat, is looking forward to a new home to dominate. Dr. Bright is Choral Director and Asst. Prof. of Music at West Texas State College. Mrs. Bright has a private studio of piano students.

The ancient frigate Constellation, rated the oldest warship in the world, is going to be placed in a concrete berth at Baltimore. Americans should be proud of this old ship which helped us win our freedom.

Colorado seems to be the favorite haunt of Canyonites this year. It seems that most items coming in mention that some family from Canyon is in Colorado fishing. I'm just envious that I'm not one of the fortunates.

ORANGE RAISIN COFFEE CAKE
A coffee cake is not necessarily a breakfast dish exclusively. It can be used as a sweet bread with a main course, or as a dessert served with strawberry preserves or orange marmalade.

Here is the recipe for the orange raisin coffee cake. You'll need 1 cup seedless raisins, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup granulated sugar, 1/4 cup shortening, 1 egg, 1/4 cup milk and 1/2 cup frozen undiluted orange juice concentrate, plus 1/2 cup brown sugar (packed), 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 1 tablespoon butter or margarine for the topping.

Rinse and drain raisins. Sift dry ingredients into a bowl and cut in shortening. Mix in raisins. Beat egg lightly and combine with milk and orange juice. Pour into flour mixture and stir just enough to moisten. Spread in greased 8-inch square pan. Mix brown sugar, cinnamon and butter or margarine and sprinkle over the top. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees, for 20 to 25 minutes. This will make one 8-inch square.

This coffee cake stays fresh because of the fruity raisins.

FINDS URANIUM
Akron, Ohio. — Mrs. Dorothy Madigan, 48, of Silver Lake, wanted to go prospecting for uranium, so she bought a Geiger counter and set out for Canada. Recently, Mrs. Madigan announced she had struck it rich—an uranium find—which, she says, AEC spokesman told her was the "second best (uranium) assay they have found in the world so far."

Game Licenses Ready This Month

AUSTIN—Hunting and fishing licenses for the new state fiscal year beginning Sept. 1 will be in the hands of dealers by the last week of this month, according to the chief license clerk of the Game and Fish Commission.

The licenses, which will be good for 12 months dating from Sept. 1, will be distributed through approximately 1,700 license deputies, mainly sporting goods stores and hardware merchants, plus county clerks and game wardens.

The chief license clerk said approximately 410,000 fishing licenses and approximately 380,000 hunting licenses were sold last year. Individual resident fishing licenses cost $1.65 and individual resident hunting licenses cost $2.15.

It was noted by the chief license clerk that the number of fishing licenses issued shows an increasing trend out of proportion to the hunting license rate. Until recent years, Texas issued about the same number of each. This year about 30,000 more fishing licenses will be distributed.

The clerk said this reflects the new emphasis on fishing that has accompanied the gradual growth in fishing waters primarily because of additional lakes and reservoirs. He said he foresees even a greater spread since water-conscious Texas has elaborate plans for more water impoundments.

One new angle this year concerns the hunters and fishermen 65 years of age or older who, by Legislative act, do not have to buy either a hunting or fishing license. The same privilege applies to youngsters under 17 years of age. Both young and old categories, however, must obtain exempt licenses for big game.

Albers Promoted In Highway Patrol

Highway Patrolman E. G. (Butch) Albers Jr., formerly of Canyon, is one of 16 state officers to be promoted to sergeant by Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The duty assignment of Sgt. Albers has not been announced. He has been previously stationed in the Amarillo district.

The new sergeants were promoted because of the increase in size of the patrol force authorized by recent legislation.

A teacher was reading to her class when she came across the word "unaware." She asked if anyone knew the meaning. One little girl raised her hand timidly and gave the following definition: "Unaware is what you put on first and take off last."

The opium conference of the United Nations in 1953 was joined by representatives of 34 nations, with seven others sending observers. The Soviet Union did not participate. The conference adopted a protocol for limiting and regulating the cultivation and export of opium, and providing for regular reports to a Permanent Central Opium Board.

Don't Shoot --- Law's Looking

AUSTIN—Maximum patrol has been ordered by the director of law enforcement for the Texas Game and Fish Commission to discourage pre-season hunting.

He said he acted after indications that "some people are not aware that severe penalties are mandatory under the law for persons breaking the game laws."

The director said wardens have reported cases of shooting deer, white-winged doves, mourning doves and quail.

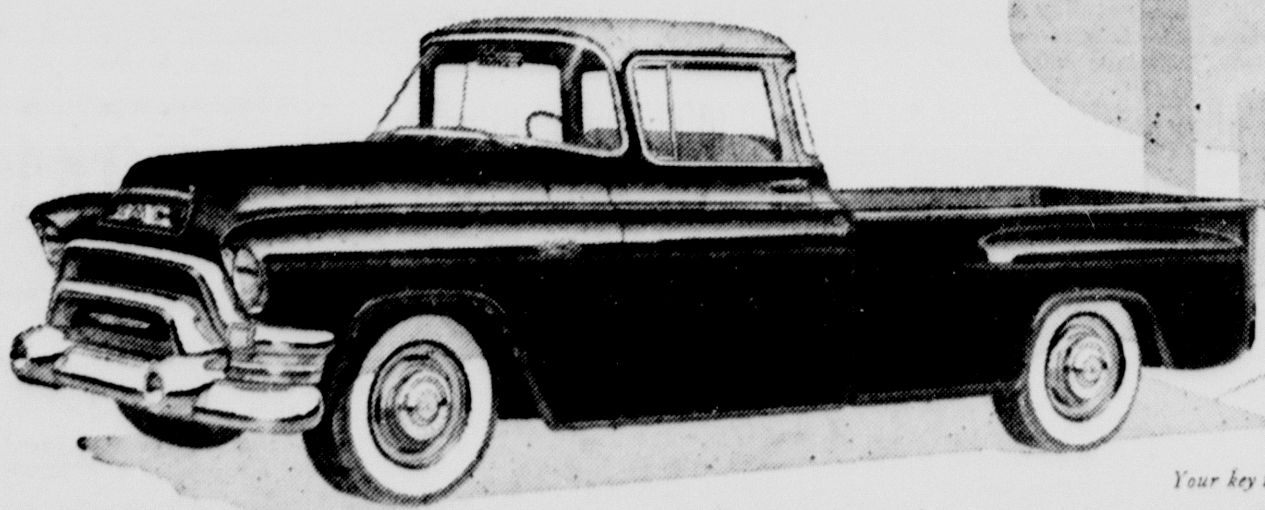

"The temptation will increase now as the legal hunting period approaches," said the director. "And I just wanted to caution people hunting before the legal period that our men are on the alert."

The director said he has been assured by "countless Justices of the Peace" that they will enthusiastically cooperate in seeing that justice is applied. Hunters caught breaking the game laws face heavy fines or jail sentences and also may lose their hunting privileges. He went on to say that all but a small segment of the hunting population cooperate and await the legal seasons, and urged the predominant majority to cooperate with their local game wardens in pin pointing the comparatively few who shoot out of season.

Several $100 fines were meted out pre-season shooting according to the latest arrest report. Four men from one small far-west Texas town were fined for shooting quail.

"Many of the doves still are nesting," he said, "and potshooting an adult dove now could mean the loss of its young."

Time Out at Music Camp

College Music Camp Ends Friday With Finale Band, Choir Concerts

Winding up two weeks of intensive training and rehearsals, the three bands, choir and twirlers of the West Texas Music Camp Friday will present a "grand finale" concert here in West Texas State College's Buffalo Stadium.

The public is invited to the program which starts at 7:30 p. m. In event of rain, the concert will be in the Administration Building auditorium.

More than 300 high school musicians from throughout the Panhandle, and from Georgia, Oklahoma, Louisiana, New Mexico and California, have participated in the camp, third to be held at WT.

They have sharpened techniques in musicianship under top college bandmasters and choral directors, and some 130 twirlers and drum majors have learned new "tricks of the trade" from two nationally known twirling instructors.

They have gone to classes, rehearsals, practice sessions, and private lessons from 7:30 a. m. until 4 p. m., perfecting selections for the final concert. Appearing on the program will be the concert band, symphonic band, and cadet band, each with nearly 100 members; the camp choir of more than 100 voices, and selected students and ensembles from among twirlers.

Mrs. Carver Is Party Honoree

Laid with an ecrú lace cloth, the serving table was centered with a large mirror reflecting yellow roses, Bells of Ireland, and ceramic wedding bells flanked by silver Buds of Paradise. The entertaining rooms were decorated with yellow and pink gladioli.

Mrs. Emma Bridges, aunt of the bride, presided at the milk glass punch service, and Miss Gayle Welch registered the guests.

Mrs. Burtz was assisted by Mrs. R. A. Hodges and Mrs. Ray Welch. Mrs. Carver was honored with a miscellaneous shower Friday, Aug. 5, in the Mark Foster home. Mrs. Paul Rogers of Amarillo was co-hostess with Mrs. Foster.

Baptist Leaders To Attend School

Five hundred and twenty Baptist pastors, educational directors and Training Union workers from the north part of Texas are expected to gather on the campus of the Wayland College at Plainview Friday and Saturday for a workshop sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Dr. T. C. Gardner, director of the convention's Training Union Department, said the purpose of the two-day sessions will be to instruct the workers and officers in the latest techniques of presenting an unusual and a dramatic program.

The manner in which a church can maintain good public relations and get good publicity will also be outlined during the sessions by Leonard Holloway, director of the convention's Department of Public Relations.

The pastors and workers will meet in the college's regular school chapel, stay in its dormitories, eat in its cafeteria and worship in the chapel.

The workshop sessions will last from 9:30 a. m. through 9:15 p. m. Friday, and from 7 a. m. through noon Saturday.

Among those who will speak or lead various phases of the conference are John Ward, educational director for the First Baptist Church at Plainview; Dr. Winfred Moore, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Borger; Dr. Carl E. Bates, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Amarillo, and Dr. Ralph Grant, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Lubbock and president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

One of the important phases of the workshop will be the nine conferences to be held simultaneously from 10 through 11:15 a. m. and from 2:30 through 3:45 p. m. Friday, and from 9 through 10:15 a. m. Saturday.

These are the sessions at which the workers will learn the new techniques for dramatizing their Training Union lessons for each age group.

TOO MUCH IN COMMON

Among the visitors at the city zoo were a gentleman and his cousin from the mountain country. The grizzled mountaineer stood spellbound, as he viewed the elephants, giraffes and various other animals and birds. It was with reluctance that he left one cage to go to another.

As they came to the monkey cage, however, our friend paused for only a moment, then hastened away.

"What's the hurry?" asked his companion, who loved to watch the monkeys.

"I don't mind a-looking' at the elephants and sech," he said, "but these — wal, they were a-looking at me!"

As long as we are not interested in it, there are two sides to every question.

Strict Tests Through Every Process Assure Safety of Salk Polio Vaccine

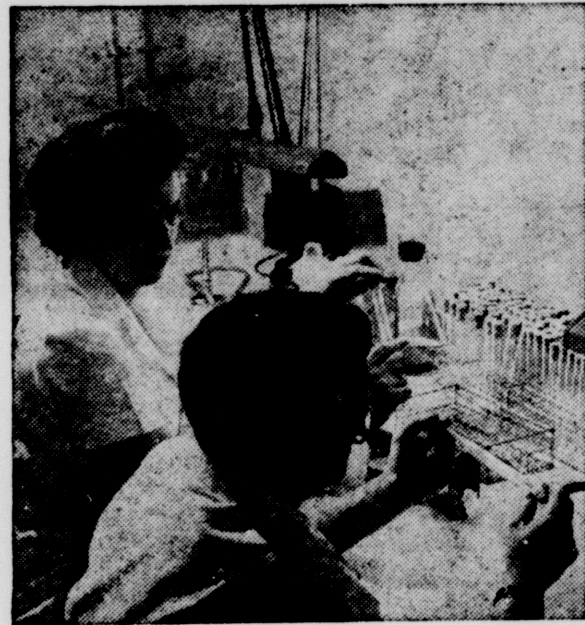

For the first time in history, a vaccine is protecting millions of human beings from paralytic polio. While the Salk vaccine will not work in every case, American children are being safeguarded against the dread disease, with no more risk than they would take in a vaccination against smallpox or a typhoid shot. The Salk vaccine must pass elaborate tests under the watchful eye of a government inspector at every stage of production. Then the final packaged vaccine is approved by the U.S. Public Health Service for distribution. Here are shown a few of the steps that assure American parents their children are being given a safe vaccine.

This technician is filtering dead cells and all other foreign matter from polio virus after it has grown on animal tissue in glass containers.

Virus is "cooked" in tank with formaldehyde (from bottle) until it is rendered harmless, after which it must pass exacting safety tests.

Animal tissue in tubes is inoculated with vaccine and let stand. If any live virus remains, it will multiply here, hence can be detected.

This expert is examining tissue after contact with vaccine, to determine absence of live virus.

It's all over and it didn't hurt a bit! Salk vaccine makes this little girl safer now from paralytic polio. And her parents feel better too!

NEWS LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Free-For-All at the White House

On the morning of August 1st, the president's office was the scene of quite a gathering—one that almost ended in a verbal free-for-all. All of us members who are interested in cotton production and manufacturing went to the White House to request the president to do something about the continuing loss of our foreign cotton markets.

The president was standing behind his desk flanked by his Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Benson, and an assistant secretary, James McConnell. We members of the House and Senate were gathered in a semi-circle around the desk. The problem was presented to the President on the basis that several countries had devalued their own currency and were thereby enabled to get some of our cotton customers without interfering with the world price.

There has been a running fight between the Department of Agriculture and several members of Congress because Benson refused to put any of our surpluses on the world market. Many argue that this country cannot dump surpluses on the world market without breaking the world price. However, the Department of Agriculture recently undertook to move some of the surpluses into the world market.

The State Department vigorously protested and the cotton surplus problem was again at a standstill. This is not the first time the State Department has interfered in efforts to dispose of some of our surpluses. Some people contend that the withholding of our surplus cotton from the world market is like holding a golden umbrella over that market while we continue to build up surpluses and cut down acreage.

The president seemed to be deeply interested in the problem as presented and was making some very appropriate remarks. The general conversation had been along the lines of protecting our own foreign customers and trying to gradually reduce our surpluses. The meeting was about to close when one member of Congress spoke up and told the president that he did not agree with anything that had been said about putting part of our surpluses on the world market. He contended that all of the Senators and members of the House who were supporting such a program were wrong, including the former Secretary of Agriculture, Sen. Clint Anderson.

This looked like the beginning of the verbal free-for-all, but the president immediately observed that the office was not a debate forum and that he felt he had a pretty good picture of the problem. Everyone left quietly.

It is a tough problem and one that is going to have to be settled at White House level. Many of the countries who are benefiting from the firm world market price are also receiving foreign aid from this country. This means that they are getting both direct and indirect foreign aid, because the surplus cotton in this country is withheld from the world market and must be purchased by Uncle Sam and held in storage. This costs money and brings criticism from the farmers which is not justified.

Congress Finally Adjourned
The hectic final weeks of Congress which had turned into the hectic final days which had turned into hectic final minutes. At 11:36 p. m., Aug. 2, Speaker Sam Rayburn, on the motion of the Hon. Charles Boyle, Democrat of Illinois, declared the House of Representatives of the United States of America adjourned sine die.

The last few hours were a wait and see process. What the Senate would do with the several bills that had been stamped essential was not known. If they turned down the conference reports, it would mean another day and, perhaps, another week.

However, agreements were finally reached and the business of the session was wound up. As the session closed the rumor became widespread that a special session was in the very near future. The president was not pleased with the action of the Congress on the road bill nor was he pleased by the housing bill that passed.

The big issue, as I pointed out before, was public housing. The House did not want public housing. The president and the Senate were both for public housing. The compromise was in the nature of an authority to construct 45 thousand units in one year. The president had indicated that the least he would take would be 70 thousand for two years. The Senate had voted 135 thousand. However, it is my prediction that there will be no special session.

The president can have the housing issue thoroughly argued in the early days of the next session and can have whatever action is necessary debated on a road bill. There is much to be done concerning a road bill, and the several months during this fall should be devoted to working out

PURCHASE OF ALASKA

The region now known as Alaska was visited by Bering and Chirikov, Russian officers, in 1741. In March, 1867, the United States purchased Alaska from Russia for $7,200,000 in gold; the formal transfer was made at Sitka in October of the same year.

Alaska derives its name from an English corruption of "al-ay-es-ka," which probably meant "The Great Land" or "Mainland."

Portland, Ore. — Police at the city jail were somewhat puzzled at finding a 15-inch hole in the mesh grating atop the elevator shaft in the jail. It had been used rather often, too, because the mesh screen had been worn shiny.

owners in the old part would also be asked to contribute "about $35" for the special fund.

Such a fund would be put into trust under the care of a bank trust officer, Hawks and Herbert said. The principal would not be spent, and interest from investments would be used for maintenance, they said.

In the part to be developed, the perpetual care fund would be around 37 per cent of the purchase price, they said. The law requires that at least 20 per cent be put in the care fund.

Those monies would also be used to establish a trust fund that could not be spent. The law requires that such funds may be invested only in government bonds, municipal bonds or approved first lien mortgages.

Neither Hawks nor Herbert indicated what price they might pay for transfer of title to the cemetery.

They said that action must be taken on their proposal prior to early in September as a new law will go into effect then that will require owners of new perpetual care cemeteries to put $7,500 in a perpetual care fund immediately upon incorporation and to put an additional $7,500 in cash in the bank.

"If we had that kind of spare money, we would not be interested in taking over an old cemetery," Hawks said. "We would rather buy new land and develop a new cemetery as we did in Hereford."

Hawks and Herbert said they would install new pressure pumping equipment on the four wells in Dreamland Cemetery in order to get adequate pressure for watering. They also said they would bring sufficient maintenance equipment to the cemetery to keep it in good shape.

They said they would not bother any existing grave site, except they would ask owners of lots which have high curbs for permission to lower them flush to the ground in order to help in mowing grass.

In a "memorial garden" type cemetery, all markers for individual graves are plaques which are flush with the ground. The cemetery is developed in gardens, each of which has a central memorial marker.

As the different gardens are developed, a percentage of the spaces is kept for emergencies and for indigents. Herbert said about 40 per cent of their cemetery in Hereford is reserved for those purposes.

The full text of the proposal from Herbert, Hawks and Higginbotham, and the letter from Warren, follows:

County Judge
Randall County
Canyon, Texas

In Re: Randall County Dreamland Cemetery

Dear Judge Stevens:

Pursuant to your letter of July 27th addressed to our attorney requesting that we submit to the Commissioner's Court of Randall County a detailed proposal for acquiring the Randall County Dreamland Cemetery, we submit to you and the Commissioners' Court of Randall County the following outline of our proposal:

We propose to take over in a lawful manner the Dreamland Cemetery located in Randall County and consisting of approximately 20 acres for the only purpose of operating a cemetery and subject to the requirement of law that the vested rights of any owner of lots or spaces in the cemetery cannot be affected by us acquiring title to the cemetery.

We further propose that when the Commissioners' Court has reached a decision to dispose of the cemetery to us, we will immediately start proceedings to incorporate a perpetual care cemetery corporation according to Article 912a-127 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas for the purpose of converting the approximate 4 acres on the West End of Dreamland Cemetery into a perpetual care cemetery in full compliance with Title 26 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, which means that a trust fund will be created to perpetually maintain all of this portion of the cemetery and as soon as we have acquired title to the cemetery property, we will designate this approximate 4 acres as a perpetual care cemetery to be operated by the corporation. As soon as title is acquired by us to Dreamland Cemetery, we will immediately clean up and place in order that portion of the cemetery not converted to perpetual care without disturbing the existing graves, monuments, curbs, trees, shrubs, roadways or walkways.

As soon as we have acquired title to Dreamland Cemetery, we will inaugurate a campaign among the existing owners of lots or spaces in the cemetery for the purpose of obtaining contributions from them on a voluntary basis. These contributions are to be used for the purpose of assisting in the ad-administrative costs and obtaining the County's interest in Dreamland Cemetery, for which I have received no compensation, and a lot of cussing.

I consider the Cemetery in our present economy a business in itself and should be operated on such a basis. I do not have sufficient information to judge the proposition presented to the commissioners court, for the independent group of men to operate Dreamland Cemetery. But I do feel that the Court should set this cemetery up as a business project and have a salaried man take charge of it and operate it as it should be.

The condition of the cemetery is good, considering the equipment for its maintenance but I do not feel that this condition is satisfactory to the taxpayers or the owners of property in Dreamland Cemetery. As a property owner in Dreamland Cemetery I shall always maintain a personal interest in so much that I want a beautiful cemetery in which my family shall be buried. I will continue to co-operate in every way possible to achieve this goal for the citizens of Randall County.

Yours very truly,

Judge Stevens:

In regard to our recent conversation, I would like to be relieved of the responsibility of selling and collecting for the cemetery property in Dreamland Cemetery. I feel that the operation of Dreamland Cemetery is separate and completely independent of the operation of my business.

New Area Barley Available in 1955

COLLEGE STATION—Kearney, a new and unusually cold and greenbug resistant barley for the High Plains area of Texas, will be available to growers for 1955 plantings.

The variety was developed by the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station. Tests covering its adaption and resistance to greenbugs have been conducted at the Amarillo Experiment Station at Bushland. It is recommended for the area west of the Caprock and from Lubbock north through the Panhandle.

Kearney had a survival of 97 percent at the Amarillo station in 1951 compared with 59 and 0 for Reno and Cordova, respectively. It is a true winter type barley and will head normally only from fall plantings.

It matures later and grows taller than most other commercial varieties grown on the High Plains. Kearney has outyielded Reno and Ward but in seasons when winter survival is not a factor, less hardy varieties, such as Cordova, may yield more.

The new variety probably will produce less early fall grazing than the upright growing tender varieties but because of its superior winter-hardiness, should be more suitable for winter and spring grazing on the High Plains. Its test weight compares favorably with other varieties.

Seed were released to commercial and certified growers in the fall of 1954 and limited quantities will be available to farmers for 1955 fall plantings. No seed will be available to farmers from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Foundation seed may be obtained from the Nebraska Station at Lincoln for the production of certified seed.

Keep The Kids Busy With Small Fry Car Games

While dad's busy driving, keeping the youngsters out of his hair isn't easy. Kids get restless; their pent-up energy on a long ride can be troublesome. "Car games" will keep them occupied.

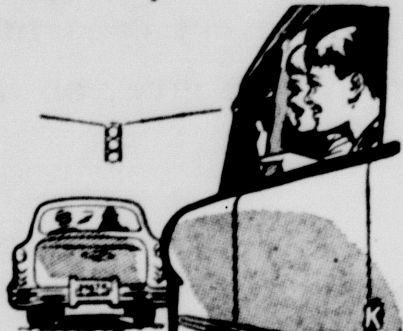

1. Cow Game. One kid takes the right, the other one the left side. And each counts the number of cows he sees. Black cows can count double, etc. The same game can be played with graveyards or horses.

2. License Plates. Players take turns naming the states on the license plates of approaching cars. The first one who identifies 25 states wins. If no front plates, check the plate through the rear window.

3. Song Games. One child hums a tune and the other guesses its name. Each one takes his turn; first one to reach ten the other doesn't know wins.

Keeping kids quiet is one way to make travel easy. Carrying

Livestock Loan Bill Extended

COLLEGE STATION—President Eisenhower signed into law on July 15 a bill which provides for a two year extension of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's special livestock loan program.

Under the extension, initial loans will be made through July 14, 1957, but additional advances may be made for another two-year period to borrowers who require more time for making necessary credit adjustments and to repay the loans previously received.

The special livestock loans are made to established producers and feeders of cattle, sheep and goats—except commercial feedlot operators—who are temporarily unable to get from regular sources the credit needed to carry on their normal operations. Eligibility is based upon the applicant's past record of livestock operations and a reasonable prospect for success with help from the loan.

Loans may be used to meet the usual expenses of livestock operations such as the purchase or production of feed, and replacing or repairing of farm machinery. Loans also may be made for the restocking of herds to normal if the applicant can carry his present herd, plus the additional livestock to be purchased, without buying a substantial part of his feed.

Loans are not made to pay existing debts, except current incidental bills.

The loans are scheduled for repayment as soon as possible within a maximum period of three years. Other creditors are not asked to subordinate their liens but are expected to execute a standby agreement and agree that a reasonable part of the applicant's normal income from livestock can be used to retire the loan.

Applications for the special loans may be made at the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration.

Band Director Says Shows Take Full Year's Work

A football half-time band show is a combination of movement, something for the eye, something for the ear and a little talk. Gerald Prescott, director of the football band at the University of Minnesota, told the Lions Club last week.

"When you see a band performing on the field, you're seeing something as carefully planned as a musical comedy," the director said.

Prescott, who has been a band director at the university for the past 23 years, is in Canyon as an instructor at West Texas State's annual Music Camp.

He said planning for a half-time show begins about 12 months ahead of time, and the formations are carefully worked out on paper and tabletops. "We try to give a show that looks good on the 50-yard line and from the goalposts, too," Prescott said.

He said it takes an average of 10 hours planning for each minute of performance on the field, and at least an hour of rehearsal for every minute.

Prescott was introduced by M. J. Newman, head of the college music department.

Visitors, in addition to Newman and Prescott, were Clyde Keith, Denver City; Tommy Gooch, Happy; and Carroll Vaughan, Canyon.

Alby Kuehler County Choice For District 4-H Dress Revue

Eight Years in Clubs Pays Off

Randall County's entrant in the District 1 4-H Club Dress Revue has been inching her way up the revue ladder for years.

Since she started in club work eight years ago, Alby Kuehler has entered a dress for each year but was able to show her dress only seven.

One year she was all set to model her dress, then caught the mumps and had to stay home. But, she's been trying every time the contest came around.

For years her efforts didn't pay off. But, in 1953, she was an alternate from the county to the district revue. The next year she was the county winner, and was first alternate for the district.

This year, she's hoping to be the district winner—and even has hopes of being the state winner.

Alby, 17, was graduated from Canyon High School last May and will enroll at West Texas State this fall. She intends to major in home economics and then to "be a good family homemaker of tomorrow."

As well as being dress revue winners, Alby has had more than a handful of 4-H honors and awards. During her eight years as a member she's received 36 ribbons, a silver pin for completion of goals, second and third places in district baking contest, was county Bake Queen three years, was the Gold Star Girl, and was given a calf by the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association for food achievement.

She was the state leadership laboratory delegate, District 1 camp delegate three years, district dairy food winner two years, Talent Club alternate, won an all-expense wheat tour, was county shrub identification winner, fourth place winner at Pan Tech shrub identification, state Award of Honor alternate, county Girls Record winner, county food preparation winner, county junior leadership winner, county achievement winner, won fourth at state dairy foods demonstration, and conservation essay winner.

This past summer, Alby was

given a scholarship by the district Farm Bureau, and is first alternate for a state Farm Bureau scholarship.

"The dream of my 4-H career came this year when I was elected District 1 State Council Member," Alby writes in a report of her club activities. "I was elected at district camp and planned and organized my own campaign."

At the state workshop this summer, Alby was on a committee to compile a handbook on "Special Observances." The handbook will be published this year as an aid to Texas clubs. Alby, and the five other 4-H'ers on the committee, were the first state group to undertake such a project, according to Floyd Lynch, state 4-H leader.

You'd think with so much 4-H work, Alby would have too busy for any other activity.

But that isn't true. For six years, she was a member of her church choir. She took piano lessons for five years. She has held office in a junior FHA chapter. She's been on volleyball and basketball teams.

One year she was chairman of her class party committee. Alby even found time for enough studying to become a member of the

Betty Hoffman Is First Alternate

Alby Kuehler, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kuehler, who live west of Hollywood, was named Randall County contestant to the District 1 4-H Club Dress Revue following a revue here last week.

Winner in the revue for club members under 14 was Virginia Friemel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Friemel, who live four miles north of Umbarger.

Runner-up in the over-14 class was Betty Hoffman; while second, third and fourth place winners in the younger class were Marie Koch, Elizabeth Haynes and Norma Lou Henderson.

In a 4-H Club dress revue, the entrants are judged in four areas. They are: The Girl, posture, grooming, poise and attitude; The Outfit on the Girl; Construction; and 4-H Club record.

Miss Kuehler, a 1955 graduate of Canyon High School, will compete in the district contest Aug. 23 in Amarillo. The winner of the district contest will represent the district in a state revue.

Other entries in the Randall County revue were Gladys Westhoff, Frances Stocker, Aline Stocker, Beatrice Wieck, Evelyn Hoffman, Kathryn Winstead, Sharon Cranmer, Mary Hoffman, Peggy Cranmer, Judy Wilson, Deanna Stocker and Rita Faye Howard.

Adult leaders of the county 4-H Clubs are Mrs. A. B. Haynes, Jr., Pleasant-Jo, a new club organized last year; and Mrs. Max Hoffman and Mrs. Alvin Friemel, Umbarger.

Junior leaders of the Pleasant-Jo club are Miss Kuehler and Dorothy Cranmer. Betty Hoffman is junior leader of the Umbarger club. Miss Kuehler and Miss Cranmer are also members of the La Golondrina club.

National Honor Society.

She has been vice president of the Catholic Youth Club. For three years Alby was a member of the high school annual staff, and was copy editor one year.

She was assistant school office worker, and has been chairman of three FHA committees. Alby was a delegate to the state FHA meeting during the past school year.

In 1954 she was assistant editor of The Eagle's Tale, and last school year she was feature editor.

She was awarded a scholarship as the leading homemaker student in the Panhandle by the ex-homemaking students of West Texas State.

Alby was Smile Queen of Canyon High in 1954.

Her prize-winning dress? Well, it cost her $8.39, not counting, of course, any labor costs. The accessories she wears with the dress in the revue cost more than twice as much—$20.86.

Alby describes her dress this way:

"Selection of the material was not easy. So many of the new, bright cotton fabrics appealed to me, but... I decided that a broadcloth charcoal-gray fabric would be most suitable for my needs."

"My dress is styled with the new torso lines. A full skirt gathers into the fitted torso top. A tailored collar and three-quarter length sleeves complete the garment."

"I chose this style because I am tall and stout and this particular dress seemed slenderizing."

"... I can go to church in fine style wearing this dress with hat, bag, gloves and heels; or I might swirl in gaiety at a dance wearing a stylish can-can slip to hold out the front skirt. Also, this dress is so simple I could wear it to college this fall with loafers and a pert little tie."

Dr. J. I. Bishop To Be Wayland Bible Instructor

PLAINVIEW—Dr. J. Ivyloy Bishop of Holt, Ala., will join the staff of Wayland College with the fall semester as a teacher in the Division of Bible and Religion, according to President A. Hope Owen.

Dr. Bishop completed the requirement for the Doctor of Religion Education degree at Southwestern Baptist Seminary during the summer. He was a teaching fellow at the Seminary for two years.

He holds the Master of Theology degree from Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Ky., and the B.A. degree from Howard College, Birmingham, Ala.

Dr. Bishop will be assistant professor at Wayland.

Museum Murals in Memorial Magazine

Harold D. Bugbee's Indian murals in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum here have gained such national fame as to receive correspondence.

A card has been received by the museum staff, addressed to "Indian Murals in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum." It was a request from the Division of Parks and Memorials in Springfield, Ill., for a copy of "Those Who Came Before Us," a brochure published last spring by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

The brochure is a tribute to Bugbee by J. Evetts Haley and describes the Bugbee Indian murals above the museum's ethnological displays.

A request for the brochure was also received from the library of the National Geographic Society in Washington, D.C., but it was addressed to C. Boone McClure, museum director.

Wayside-Cloverleaf 4-H'ers In Parade

The Wayside-Cloverleaf 4-H Club attended the Caprock Rodeo and parade at Claude July 29 as their regular meeting.

The Armstrong County clubs entered a float in the parade and Frances Heisler, Patsy and Nancy Schrib and Polly Cummins of the Cloverleaf Club, rode on it.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Heisler took the club members to Claude for the parade.

The Armstrong County-wide Dress Revue will be Aug. 13 at Claude.

THE ENEMY—The "who, me?" gesture seemingly made by this grasshopper convinces no one in Missouri. All-out war on the insects has been declared by the Missouri Farmers' Association, which has mobilized spray planes for the battle. Six to seven 'hoppers per square yard eat off pasture at the same rate as a cow, according to farm experts.

Your grass and legume yield from permanent pasturing can be increased through pasture rotation. This type of pasturing has been greatly simplified with modern electric fences. The electric fence also permits you to take full advantage of temporary pastures, and it is equally as useful for permanent fencing.

M. L. Simpson, Jr., Castro County, reports that his dairy cow pasture produces more profit than any of his crop land. His pasture layout consists of six units divided and fenced all the way around with an electric fence. The dairy cows pasture on one plot only four nights. This system allows the grasses and legumes in the pasture to maintain a high level of vitality that keeps them growing fast and discourages weed infestation. Mr. Simpson has set a record for top production from sixty-five acres of land.

The building of an electric fence is further simplified because the fence is an open circuit.

"My electric fence is inexpensive, easy to install and practical," says M. L. Simpson, Jr., Castro County, Texas. "I can take down and rebuild a fence for an entire pasture in a few hours because of the small amount of equipment that is needed. Iron posts are installed by merely pushing them into the ground by hand."

Wolf in Dire, Desperate Straits — Clothes All Gone, Only Bones Left

A wolf in nobody's clothing has gone on display in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, as the completed skeleton of a prehistoric direwolf has been added to a newly arranged hall of natural history. The large-headed, long-fanged wolf was the third animal put together by Curtis Tunnell, West Texas State College graduate from Turkey. He had earlier completed a giant sloth and a buffalo. Tunnell, who worked until last week at the museum, has been called to active duty with the Navy.

Dr. Donald Enlow, curator of paleontology, said the direwolf, or "Canis dirus," skeleton came from the La Brea tar pits in California, and that the bones were excellently preserved.

A sabre-toothed tiger was sent to the museum by Dr. Don Savage, a WT graduate who is acting director of the museum at the University of California, Berkeley.

A large animal about the size of a large collie dog, the direwolf was once the dominant wolf on the American continent, Dr. Enlow said. It was similar to the modern lobo wolf, except its head was unusually large.

It roamed the country tens of thousands of years ago during the Pleistocene, or Ice Age.

No fossil remains of the direwolf have been found in this region since the 1890's, when a skeleton of one was found in Tule Canyon by W. F. Cummins.

Heard the other day about a fellow whose doctor advised him to cut his drinking in half — so he eliminated the chasers.

Judging from what we hear, more people with coughs go to theatres, than to doctors.

In a garden wedding, Jo Nell Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Jones of Alva, Okla., recently became the bride of Edel Money, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Money of Canyon. The Rev. J. C. Christenson read the service in the yard at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. H. G. Eickman, aunt of the bride and organist, played traditional nuptial selections and accompanied Don Siebenlist of Shattuck, who sang "I Love You Truly," "At Dawning" and "Because." Calvin Casey Jr. of Amarillo sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Two white trellises covered with greenery and white chrysanthemums formed the decorative setting. Completing the decor were arrangements of white gladioli.

Carole June Voth of Hitchcock attended her cousin as maid-of-honor. She wore an aqua ballerina length dress and headband of white daisies. Her bouquet was of aqua carnations and white daisies.

The bridesmaid, Eloyce Money, sister of the bridegroom, wore a pink ballerina length dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Her headband also was of white daisies. Lana Betz of Hitchcock, flower girl, wore a pink frock and a white bandeau.

Claude Money of Canyon was his cousin's best man, and Mr. Siebenlist was groomsmen. The Bible was carried by David Harold Eickman, cousin of the bride, and George Harold Eickman, also a cousin of the bride, was junior usher. Ushers were Calvin Casey of Amarillo and Richard Quintt of Shattuck.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white ballerina length gown. Her veil was attached to a heart-shaped headband. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Jones, mother of the bride, wore a pink dress with white accessories, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Money, wore a peacock blue dress with white accessories. Both had corsages of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party was feted at a reception. Laid with a white lace cloth, the serving table was centered with a bouquet of pink and white carnations, flanked by lighted tapers.

For the wedding trip to Riverside Lodge, near Boulder, Colo., the bride traveled in a white sheath dress and black accessories. The couple is to be at home in Boulder where Mr. Money is enrolled in college.

Mrs. Money was graduated from high school at Keene, Texas, and the bridegroom completed work at Southwestern Junior College at Keene.

Post Office Has No New Employees

Postmaster Guy Harp said Monday that last week's story in the Canyon News that two new men had been added in the office here is misleading. Following is an article he sent in correction:

"An article in the News last week left the impression that two new men have been added to the Post Office force when in fact they are replacements for resignations."

"Delbert Davis Jr. replaced Marvin Fite, a city carrier, who resigned to go to Palestine, Texas, to join a brother in the grocery business. Carroll Vaughan resigned the substitute clerk's job to go to work in the Hosea Foster Insurance office, and Dick Loudder was transferred from city carrier to fill that vacancy and in turn was replaced by Geo. T. Stevens Jr. as a city carrier. Loudder's job as a substitute clerk is not a promotion but is a reassignment of duties."

"Eilon Hill resigned May 31 as an indefinite substitute clerk and has not been replaced, so the Post Office force is actually working one man short of the force three months ago."

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brasher and Charles spent last week in Creed, Colo., fishing with Rev. and Mrs. Strauss Atkinson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Byrd. The Atkinsons and the Byrds will return home this weekend.

Mrs. Bessie Hunnicutt, mother of Lawrence D. Hunnicutt, suffered a heart attack Thursday in Amarillo. She is greatly improved at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hightower of Dallas visited last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Scruggs.

Ann and Jane Jarrett At Kickapoo Kamp

Ann and Jane Jarrett, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Jarrett, are spending the second term of summer camp at Kickapoo Kamp near Kerrville.

Ann, who received one of the highest honors of the camp, that of Firelighter, during her first summer at Kickapoo has qualified for the Junior Life Saving class. She has earned the marksman first-class rating in rifle shooting.

Jane has qualified as an intermediate swimmer and an intermediate in horseback riding.

Both girls are members of the Cherokee Tribe, one of the two tribes at the camp which compete in activities.

A $200 scholarship for the 1955-56 session at West Texas State College has been awarded to Mrs. Joann Dodson Seitz, Canyon, by the Texas Parents-Teachers Association, according to Dean Walter H. Juniper.

The scholarship is one of eight awarded by the Texas Congress, P.T.A. to students who are preparing to teach in Texas schools.

Mrs. Seitz, daughter of S. V. Dodson, is a senior mathematics student. She is a member of Buffalo Gals, WT campus service organization.

AUSTIN—Whether Texas school laws have been nullified is under a statewide advisory committee's study.

Gov. Allan Shivers outlined major desegregation problems at the committee's initial meeting last week. Although he denounced the US Supreme Court decree, he said the answer was not in defiance. He recommended adjustment in the best interest of Texas school children.

Shivers said an El Paso district court decision ordering desegregation at Texas Western College may necessitate rewriting the Gilmer-Aiken laws. School money now is allocated on the basis of separate, but equal, facilities for white and colored.

Bi-racial, the group includes 34 community leaders appointed by the governor and eight legislators named by the house speaker and lieutenant governor.

Will Morris Crews, San Antonio lawyer and contractor, was named to head a 12-member executive committee. A legal subcommittee will study legislative needs.

Areas of study suggested by the governor:

1. What to do about present compulsory attendance and compulsory segregation laws.

2. Whether either white or colored children can be forced to attend a certain school, or integrate, against their will.

3. Ways and means of giving maximum authority to local school districts.

Polio Vaccine Allocated

Children under 10 and expectant mothers have won priority recognition for Texas' supply of commercial Salk vaccine.

Such preference was recommended by the State Polio Vaccine Committee. Dr. Henry Holle, state health commissioner, called the group to decide how the 36,540 vaccine doses released to Texas should be used.

Recommended use was split, 83 per cent commercially, 17 per cent by public agencies.

Agencies were asked to order through retail outlets, not from manufacturers. Doctors were urged to keep accurate records.

Nationally, it had been suggested preference be given children five to nine. Basis for the change in Texas was records showing 44 per cent of paralytic polio last year hit children under five.

Though the state vaccine committee has no official authority, it anticipated no difficulty in getting cooperation. Its nine members represent top officials and leaders in the medical, pharmaceutical and osteopathic profession.

Stentiff Chooses Chairman

Reuben Stentiff last week announced that a fellow San Saban, Kelly Owen, will direct his campaign for governor.

Owen will have his first political experience when Stentiff's 22-member steering committee meet in Austin Aug. 17.

Leasing Program Clean

Multi-million dollar public school land leasing operations apparently are not involved in Texas' land scandal.

State Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder testified last week he had found no evidence of school land irregularities. Rudder's testimony was in the wind-up of a court of inquiry. Begun in April, it was conducted by the Attorney General's Department.

Emphasis has been on land of office activities other than the veterans program. Multiple investigations in the latter area resulted in 319 indictments and conviction of former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.

Rudder said he still is sending files of questionable veterans land transactions to district attorneys.

Other witnesses told of land in Mexico treated under the veterans program, and of questionable block deals in Maverick County.

Investigation of these stories was begun immediately by the Attorney General's Department. Giles Jury Cost Extra

As a postscript to the Bascom Giles theft trial, Travis County has a bill for $542.20. This was the cost of putting jurors in air-conditioned hotel rooms. One juror had become ill from stifling courthouse dormitory heat, threatening a mis-trial. Plans for courthouse air conditioning have since been initiated.

Construction Board Set

Estimated value of construction in Texas hit an all-time peak the first half of 1955. It prompted prediction for a new overall business record this year from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Only a severe decline, said bureau experts, could bring down the average — 11 per cent higher than 1954.

Davy Crockett may not have shot an Indian, killed a bear, or saved the Alamo—but in 1955 he sure did wipe the spacemen off the map.

Traffic Deaths Down for County

Although there have been no traffic fatalities on highways in Randall County this year, the rate over the rest of the Panhandle continues to climb.

In July, there were 11 deaths, according to figures released by Capt. J. W. Blackwell, commander of the Amarillo district of the Highway Patrol. The total for the year now stands at 50 persons killed as compared to 46 for the same period last year.

At this time last year, there had been 11 deaths in Randall County.

Last month there were 84 persons injured in 114 accidents which caused an estimated property damage of $69,204. For the year, the totals are 446 injuries and $464,139 in property damage.

Driving while drinking and speeding were the two major causes of accidents last month. Other causes, in order, are driving on the wrong side of the road, improper passing and miscellaneous hazardous violations.

The 23 patrolmen of the Amarillo district issued 637 traffic tickets last month, of which 292 were for speeding and 34 for driving while intoxicated.

They also issued 1,486 warnings. They traveled 77,039 miles while at work during 3,519 daytime hours and 2,704 nighttime.

Morris Elected League Officer

Milton Morris, former district Lions governor, was elected first vice president of the Texas Lions League for Crippled Children last week.

The league operates the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children near Kerrville.

Other officers elected include Frank Robertson, San Antonio, re-elected president; L. E. Downs, Beaumont, executive vice president; Charles F. Williams, Fort Worth, second vice president; James R. Curtis, Longview, third vice president; Hulon Hall, Navasota, recording secretary; William G. Davis, El Paso, financial secretary; and Reagon Smith, Conroe, re-elected treasurer.

The election climaxed a two-day annual meeting of the league's board of directors, officers and standing committees.

Youth Attending Unusual Camp

Sheldon Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Green of Canyon, is attending one of the most unique summer camps in the southwest.

Camp Sweeney, located nine miles east of Gainesville, is dedicated to children who have diabetes. Boys and girls who attend are taught how to take proper care of themselves through normal diet, proper exercise and the use of insulin.

This is the sixth summer that Sheldon has attended the camp, and the sixth summer it has been established. The camp is sponsored by the Southwestern Diabetic Foundation and was founded by Dr. J. Shirley Sweeney of Dallas.

Operating during the three summer months only, the camp has cared for 1,000 diabetic children since it was formed. The Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce is active in support of Camp Sweeney.

In addition to classes and counseling, campers have access to numerous recreational facilities. Included in the 400-acre camp area are a 23-acre lake, horseback riding areas, rifle and archery ranges and instruction in various arts and crafts.

August 15 Date For Scholarships

LUBBOCK—A deadline of August 15 has been set for students applying for two new freshman journalism scholarships at Texas Tech. Dr. William E. Hall, department head, has announced.

The journalism grants, both established within the past month, are the $180 Hereford Brand Scholarship and the $100 South Plains Press Association Scholarship.

Any entering freshman from the West Texas area is eligible for the Hereford scholarship while the SPPA award is restricted to member communities. The SPPA towns include Lubbock, Abilene, Brownfield, Colorado City, Littlefield, Seagraves, Tahoka, Matador, Slaton, Morton.

Winners will be announced on or about September 1, Dr. Hall said.

Scientists at Florida State University are seeking to determine if there is any relationship between the severity of a polio epidemic and the prevailing humidity, temperature range and barometric pressure at time of its occurrence.

STEPS TO GOD

The Bible says for us not to neglect church attendance, Heb. 10:25. Here we find a family on the way up the steps to an hour of worship. The church is the strongest dyke against corruption and the evil forces that destroy human life. The church is the foe of the penitentiary. Jesus said, "I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it," Matt. 16:18.

The church is not perfect... nothing human ever is. Even the Apostles chosen by Jesus had a Judas, but see the success He made of the other eleven. Christ loved the church enough to die for it and that makes it mighty important. Whether people worship in a tent, tabernacle or cathedral, they mean to be on God's side. Church-going people are people of Faith. Do you go to church?

Get Ready Now For Fall Sowing

COLLEGE STATION—Four items should now be receiving attention from farmers who expect to make plantings of small grains this fall, according to Ben R. Spears, extension agronomist.

The four are selection of the area to be planted; taking and sending a total to a soil testing laboratory a soil sample from the selected field or fields and buying the fertilizer needed; choosing the best adapted variety along with a source of seed; and preparation of the seedbed.

Spears, in commenting on the first, recommends planting the crop on land which was not in small grains last year. Rotation, he said, will help control insects and soil borne diseases. This means better yields and quality in the grain produced.

The only sure way to know what plant foods are needed to make the crop most productive is to have an analysis made of the soil on which it is to be grown. "Take the guess out of fertilizer requirements by soil testing," said Spears.

Plant food deficiencies are often confused with insect injury, and research has shown that grazing benefits as well as grain yields can be greatly increased through the use of the proper kinds and amounts of fertilizers.

New varieties of small grains adapted to specific areas have been developed by research and Spears recommended that farmers contact their local county agents for the latest information on varieties for their area and also sources of certified planting seed. He said all planting seed should be treated with a fungicide before it is planted to control seedling and seed and soil borne diseases.

By preparing the land early, the seedbed has time to settle and catch and hold moisture, said Spears. Between now and planting time, he advises only tillage sufficient to control weed growth.

Oats may be dry-planted but it is a bit hazardous to follow this practice in seeding barley and wheat, said the specialist. Finally, he suggests a visit with the local county agent for the latest information on small grain production problems.

A STRANGE URGE

Detroit, Mich. — George Waits, 35, of Pulaski, Tenn., visiting Detroit, saw a large plate-glass window in the new modernistic city-county building and got the urge to "hop through it." He did. Taken to court, charged with malicious destruction of property, Waits will have to replace the $250-window. He suffered only a three-inch gash on his hand as a result of his "hop."

BURGLARS COCKY

Salt Lake City. — The burglars who rummaged the home of Garrett Dimama recently not only stole two sets of silverware, a portable sewing machine, a shotgun, three books of merchandise coupons, costume jewelry and a new pair of shoes, but they stopped long enough to raid the refrigerator and drank a bottle of soda pop.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

A known axiom in restaurant business is surest way to go broke is to leave back door unlocked.

This is basically lesson in reports released so far by Commission of Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, known as Hoover Commission.

Unfortunately, deep, sincere, far reaching work of this committee is not getting publicity it deserves. Rather, highlights C. W. Harder such as revelation Armed Forces have 80 year supply of canned hamburgers, get press notices, hence real significance is lost.

But again and again through reports, commission calls attention to fact bureaucracy has managed to evade intent of Congress with resulting waste. It also calls on Congress to ask Comptroller General of the U. S. to study various situations and make recommendations to correct bureaucratic abuses.

At present time, reports show, there is actually no way to pull up reins on bureaucrats running amuck. Congress as a body is too busy to make checks needed on executive branch of government. Seldom does a committee get into this type of work, as recently when Sen. Harry Byrd, Va., exposed FHA operations.

So it is reasoned Congress should have a constant watchdog reporting to it. The Comptroller General's office is regarded in some quarters as logical place to place this responsibility. This office, established in 1921, provides that Comptroller General, appointed for a term of 14 years, check all claims made against the government.

© National Federation of Independent Business

Yet this office lacks both power and staff to carry on investigation work into government financial affairs in same manner Federal Bureau of Investigation works in field of security.

For example it has been charged past few months on occasions that Harold Stassen, as head of foreign aid operations, diverted funds to projects not within intent of Congress.

Neither is it necessary at all times to throw criminal charges at someone when government funds are misused. Ignorance is as costly as criminal intent.

For example, when celebrated hamburger story broke, scores of ranking brass were called up before Congress. Yet it is rather specious to expect professional men to be businessmen. And it is questionable with the complexity of modern warfare and defense whether nation has any right to expect military men to acquire business knowledge.

In short, Hoover Commission reports already indicate great lack in American government. There is the absence of impartial, non-partisan business-trained officials, with authority to blow the whistle on bureaucrats.

And now that foreign aid program, under its new name, Mutual Cooperation Administration is moving with its billions of dollars into the State Department, need for such authority becomes imperative. As shown by many instances, striped pants career boys running around wrinkling brows over global problems are not inclined to stoop to such mundane matters as getting a buck's worth for a dollar.

Five Families in Farm, Home Plan

Five Randall County farm families are enrolled in a Farm and Home Development Program originated by the extension service of Texas A&M.

Those working in the program are the Alvin Friemels, who live about four miles north of Umbarger; the Cristler Crains, three south of Canyon; the Blaine Hufnagles, 4½ west of Ralph; the Donald Olsons, five north and three west of Canyon; and the Guy Tandys, 11 west and 11½ north of Canyon.

The program was started in Randall County in June, Mrs. Mona Hildreth, county home demonstration agent, said. The program is designed to help farm families improve both their farms and their homes by aid from the home demonstration and county agents.

Each member of the family makes a list of things they want and would like to do. From the lists, short-term and long-range goals are set up, and the family begins working toward them. Help and advice come from the agents.

Mrs. Hildreth said the program is set up in each county by enlisting five families. Randall County was the first in District I to institute the program, she said.

The agents continue working with the original families as long as the families desire. When the program is well under way, other families are added to the list, she said.

WRONG LOOK

Madera, Calif. — Mrs. Joan Bad-desley, while out driving, took her eyes off the highway to look at a wrecking yard full of smashed-up automobiles. In the interval her car hit the rear end of another car, pushed that one into car No. 2 and a pile-up. Fortunately, no one was injured.

MAN MAKES QUILTS

Royal, Nebr. — Elmer E. Haskins, retired 75-year-old farmer, spends his time, since his wife died, in making baby quilts and giving them to hospitals as gifts to new mothers. He makes only one qualification for his gift quilt — the baby getting one must be born on February 8 — his own birthday. So far he has given away 22 quilts.

THE OLD STORY

Cincinnati, O. — When their automobile ran out of gasoline, William Maltz, 55, and Ted Rivers, 35, got some gas and began pouring it into the tank. To be sure the gasoline was entering the tank properly, Maltz lighted a cigarette lighter. It was. In the ensuing explosion, both Maltz and Ted Rivers received third-degree burns.

THEY "BELT" CARS FOR YOUR SAFETY—Seat belts may someday be as much an item of original equipment on autos as are windshields, as a result of tests such as the one pictured above at Ford's Dearborn, Mich., testing grounds. Electrically wired dummies transmit impulses to pilot-instrument truck, left, as stock-model cars are crashed into barriers to determine impact effect on the human body at the moment a collision happens. Data gained by the simulated accidents indicates that belts reduce chances of severe injury, and Ford announces that the devices will be offered as optional equipment for its various models.

Study Beef Cattle At A&M Course

COLLEGE STATION—Problems of beef cattle production will be given a going over by a battery of experts from every segment of the beef industry during a three-day short course, August 16-18, at Texas A. and M. College. It is sponsored by the Animal Husbandry Department of the A. and M. College System.

The meeting, which will be held in the Memorial Student Center, should be of interest not only to beef producers but those involved in marketing, processing and consumers. J. K. Riggs, of the sponsoring department and general short course chairman, said the meetings will be open to anyone who desires to attend.

Riggs said the afternoon and evening sessions on Aug. 16 dealing with breeding for performance are sure to create a lot of interest.

Speakers at those sessions, other than system personnel, will include Max A. Blau, registered Hereford breeder of Follett; C. H. Coddling, Jr., Rock Hill Ranch, Foraker, Okla.; D. Burns, manager, Pitchfork Ranch, Guthrie; Harry Gayden, American Brahman Breeders Assn. of Houston; R. P. Marshall, Santa Gertrudis Breeders International of Kingsville; Milton E. Miller, American Aberdeen-Angus Breeders Assn. of Brady and Paul

The first session on Tuesday will deal with "Outlook, Outlooks and Outcome." Jay Taylor, of Amarillo, J. W. Mitchell, Fort Worth, and Leo Welder of Victoria will be the out-of-town speakers.

Wednesday's sessions will deal with problems relating in feeding and managing the breeding herd and Thursday morning "What's New in Parasite and Disease Control" will be the general topic. The afternoon will be devoted to a discussion of problems relating to managing pastures and ranges for greater efficiency.

For those who don't have much time for study and travel, the short course offers a real opportunity to get the latest information on problems which the beef industry is now facing, Riggs said.

"Daddy, what are diplomatic relations?" "There are few, if any, such people, my boy."

Visitor (at asylum) — "Do you have to keep the women inmates separated from the men?"

Attendant — "Sure. The people here ain't as crazy as you think."
